95 years of glories—they are not just accumulation of moments, but more like netting of innumerable trajectories of dreams and wishes.

At this moment, with deep sincerity, we invite everyone related to NCKU, our kith and kin, to be here, looking back with joint jubilation at our past of shared glories and marching abreast into a future of boundary-crossing innovation. We are carried by the rich and warm heritage of this ancient city, nurturing the ideals of sustainable mutual development, and striding toward the horizon of global advancement.
